PEACE NOW PREVAILS.

No Further Bloodshed in South Carolina.

THE SEAT OF WAR CHANGED.

The State Capital and Governor Tillman's Actions Now of the Most Important Interest—The Governor Confident That the Worst Is Over—Still There Is a Feeling That Trouble Will Follow.

DARLINGTON, S. C., April 2.—Everything is quiet here for the seat of war is now changed to Columbia. The adjutant and inspector general of the state troops arrived here on a special train, but no troops accompanied them.

The inspector general, under the orders of the governor, has traveled over the state endeavoring to raise a force of volunteers to uphold the dispensary law, but the indications are that he has met with complete failure on all sides. All classes of citizens are refusing to bear arms against South Carolinians.

The adjutant general has been in consultation with the most conservative citizens of Darlington, and the inference is that they have all agreed to use their influence to quiet the disturbed conditions. A strong determination still prevails, however, that Tillman's spies shall not invade private residences.

The "spy," McLendon, who was in jail here, was spirited away by his friends and supporters of the dispensary law between the hours of 3:30 and 5 a.m. McLendon was the man who killed Frank Norment, and a number of the dead man's friends are searching for him. The "spy" who was captured in the woods near Rogers has also made his escape.

The local military have thrown up their commission and resigned by letter to the adjutant general.

It is said here that Governor Tillman is in possession of the railroad and telegraph lines at Columbia, and that his officers inspect every message that is received, and none go out without his authority or sanction. Telegraphic communication is greatly hampered.

Bitter Feeling at Florence.

FLORENCE, S. C., April 2.—Although there has been no actual disturbance here for the past 24 hours, the undercurrent of the feeling is still very bitter, and it would only require an outbreak in the vicinity or some obnoxious act on the part of the governor to again stir the citizens to arms.

The belief is general that even should the officers of the governor, who are asserted to be responsible for the first outbreak, be convicted by the courts, they would be pardoned by the governor, as Elliott, one of the spies, who slapped the face of a woman in Charleston some time ago, was pardoned by telegraph by Governor Tillman, in fact of the most convincing proof of his guilt. The people have lost faith in the efficacy of the law to protect their lives and liberties.

Darlington asserts her independence of Governor Tillman and his laws. Florence is ready to follow her lead, and it is believed that other towns in the state stand ready to take the cue from Darlington. McLendon, who was first thought to be seriously wounded, proves to have been shamming, and was detained in jail by a friendly sheriff until arrangement for his escape from the county could be made.

The guns of the Florence rifles are still in the possession of the citizens and no attempt has thus far been made to recover them. Even should such an effort be made by state troops no arms will be found, as they have been secreted. The citizens are not disposed to surrender the advance they have made, but propose that being outlawed they will proceed to restore law and order themselves.

Telegraphic Censorship.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 2.—Sunday was a rather quiet day in Columbia, and, while there have been incidents of a most interesting nature in connection with the dispensary troubles, there has been practically no excitement. Early in the morning Governor Tillman established a telegraph censor board, placing several militiamen, the most intelligent that could be selected, in charge of both offices to supervise all messages offered. These gentlemen have simply carried out their instructions, and have refused only a few telegrams that were calculated to arouse bad feeling.

The governor stated that in his opinion the worst of the danger was over. He said that inasmuch as Darlington and Florence were in a state of insurrection he felt it his duty to exert himself to the utmost to uphold the dignity and preserve the peace of the state. At the time of the interview the 300 militiamen had just left on a special train for Darlington. In view of the number of companies which had responded to his call he was greatly gratified at having finally placed the troops en route to the scene of the tragedy.

When asked how soon he expected to restore civil law, he said he could not tell; there was much at stake. Darlington and the community were in insurrection, defying the authority of the state, and the insurrectionists must be put down. The property of the state (meaning the dispensaries) had been destroyed. The guilty parties must be discovered and brought to justice. The dispensary constables were being pursued and were in imminent danger of losing their lives. He would not permit them to be hounded down and shot like dogs. Pending developments in these matters he would keep the militia under arms.

Troops Reach Darlington.

DARLINGTON, S. C., April 2.—Governor Tillman's military train, bringing 12 companies and 500 men, has arrived here. They were met by the local military company and escorted to their quarters. Great excitement prevailed at the time the train arrived, but it has since died away. Governor Tillman has wired the citizens here that the presence of the troops is required to arrest those who participated in the riot.

If the governor desires to make the arrest of these men he will have to send at least five times the number of troops now on the spot, and it is believed if the military is called on to arrest citizens, that at least half, if not all of the soldiers, will lay down their arms and assist the citizens should trouble occur.

A courier has just arrived from the country near Timmonsville announcing that two spies were found dead in the woods near that place at a late hour yesterday afternoon.

CROSSED THE STATE LINE.
Coxey's Army Now Marching Through Pennsylvania.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 2.—Several hundred people on foot and in vehicles met Coxey's commonwealth at Beaver Falls, when the army entered in the afternoon. The crowds were curious, but not cordial. A delegation of mounted citizens met Coxey and escorted him and his followers in a parade through the town.

Camp was then pitched near the Beaver river on College Hill. Meetings were held on the grounds at once and $36 collected by Marshal Smith. In the evening the usual meeting was held in the opera house and after the audience left, the army, 270 strong, were marched through the town.

By 9 o'clock 125 recruits had joined, necessitating the formation of a new commune called the Cyclones, named after the astrologer. Eighteen of the recruits were potters from East Liverpool. Marshal Smith told his men that any one of them caught begging would be dismissed and prosecuted. One man was dismissed at Darlington for begging and another at Beaver Falls for drunkenness.

The march into town from New Galilee was uneventful. Before leaving Camp Marion Butler a religious service with music was held on the field.

Food enough to last the army for two days was contributed here by the citizens and the officers entertained by a hotelkeeper.

The leaders are immensely pleased with the reception and the big batch of recruits. The police were on the alert, and 25 special constables were on duty. Several well known crooks were observed in town by the local officers, but were put away from the vicinity of the camp.

Carl Browne in his orders named the camp at Zwickley "Duss," in honor of the trustee of Economy, who provides lunch at that town.

Thirteen dollars were collected from the crowd during the evening, making the total $49.

Browne said that most of the speaking will be done at Economy, as he fears a cold reception at Zwickley, "an aristocratic suburb of Pittsburg."

AMERICANS READY TO FIGHT.

There Will Be Bloodshed at Bluefields
Nicaraguans Don't Subside.

COLON, April 2.—The minister of foreign affairs of Nicaragua has arrived at Bluefields with the view of representing the government of Nicaragua in all future negotiations concerning the Mosquito territory.

The shooting of an American citizen, William Wilson, by the acting governor of Rama, is confirmed.

Seven steamers are lying idle at Bluefields, and all commerce of that port has been stopped. In anticipation of further trouble, the residents of Bluefields are leaving the country.

The American colony has declared its determination to fight if the Nicaraguans cause any further trouble. The people have lost faith in the efficacy of the law to protect their lives and liberties.

Darlington asserts her independence of Governor Tillman and his laws. Florence is ready to follow her lead, and it is believed that other towns in the state stand ready to take the cue from Darlington. McLendon, who was first thought to be seriously wounded, proves to have been shamming, and was detained in jail by a friendly sheriff until arrangement for his escape from the county could be made.

Some Prospects of a Settlement.

DENVER, April 2.—Judge Platt Rogers, counsel for Governor Waite and the new fire and police board, will ask the supreme court, through Attorney General Engley, for a mandamus writ, compelling the old board to give up the office and records. This is likely to side-track lower court proceedings, now in a dreadful muddle, and settle the issue without further delay.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

An Old Lady Killed and No Clew to Her Murderer.

POMEROY, O., April 2.—The foulest murder in the history of this county was committed here about midnight. Elizabeth Slaughter, the divorced wife of Dr. Richard Slaughter, was found dead with three bullet holes in her head on the porch of Mrs. Clayton Stahl, her next door neighbor. She had been living alone and was 70 years old.

Mr. Clayton Stahl and wife, returning from an entertainment, fell over the dead body at their door. It is supposed

TARIFF TALK BEGUN.

The Senate Takes Up the Wilson Bill.

ONLY TOPIC FOR DISCUSSION.

Other Measures May Be Pressed Forward, but Not Likely to Be Acted Upon Until the Tariff Bill Is Out of the Way. An Exciting Week Promised in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The tariff bill will be taken up for consideration in the senate today at 2 o'clock, in accordance with the agreement arrived at in the committee on finance and with the notice of Chairman Voorhees to that effect, and will in all probability be the prominent topic of debate during the entire week. There are other measures which may claim attention, but none of them are likely to receive it without the consent of the managers of the tariff bill.

Senator Hansbrough's bill for the extermination of the Russian thistle appears upon the calendar as the unfinished business, and but for the tariff bill would be called up, and it is in a position where it could be legitimately pressed, if its author should feel so disposed, but it is fair to presume that it will be quietly laid aside for the tariff.

Other questions which may press for consideration during the week are the Chinese treaty and the proposed bill for the regulation of the Behring sea seal fisheries.

Senator Morgan has stated that he will probably ask the senate to consider the Chinese treaty the latter part of the week, and there is a probability that the Behring sea bill will be considered as of sufficient importance to call for prompt action. There will be little difficulty in securing an understanding whereby these questions can be taken up for the temporary displacement of the tariff if expedited action should be considered important.

The pension and fortifications appropriation bills are also on the calendar and can be considered at any time, but they will not be pressed for the present. The tariff bill will be the only order after 2 o'clock each day of the week, or until the morning business shall be disposed of, and there will be two hours each day for the consideration of miscellaneous questions which properly belong to that hour.

Several amendments to the tariff bill will be offered by the committee on finance, after which the speaking will begin in which Senator Voorhees, as chairman of the finance committee, will lead off. He will be replied to by Senator Allison, but, beyond these speeches, it is not known in what order senators will be heard. It is quite likely that Senators McPherson and Hill, on the Democratic side, will speak early in the week, and it is known that on the Republican side of the chamber Senators Hale, Lodge, Culion, Hoar, Hawley, Morrill and Mitchell of Oregon are prepared to speak, but it is not probable that even a majority of those can be heard during the present week. Indeed, if the speeches should prove to be long, as many of them will, it is likely that for the present not more than one will be heard in a day. Senator Peifer is also expected to speak on the tariff this week or next.

Program of the House.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—An exciting week is promised in the house. The struggle over the O'Neill-Joy contested election case will be resumed. Although it has been apparent since this case has been up that at least a dozen Democrats were opposed to seating the Democratic contestant, the partisan feeling engendered during the last three days of the filibuster has served to drive those who were lukewarm into camp, and while they will probably not vote for O'Neill, they will at least lend their votes and presence to make the necessary quorum to seat the St. Louis Democrat.

The English-Hilborn case will follow, and so far as known, the Democrats are united on the proposition to seat English, the contestant.

On Tuesday, according to the notice served by Mr. Bland on Friday, he will ask the house to consider the president's veto of the seigniorage bill and will move to pass the bill over the veto. As it requires a two-thirds vote to override the objections of the president, there is little hope that Mr. Bland's motion can be carried. But, nevertheless, it is expected that the debate will be of an exceedingly lively character. The silver men are in a state of revolt and they avow their purpose to rake the administration fore and aft. Some very outspoken criticism can be looked for.

The debate upon the proposition to pass the bill over the veto may last all week if the silver men are so disposed, as the Republicans will be glad to join with them to prevent a limit being placed upon it.

When the veto message is disposed of, the house will again go back to the appropriation bills. The postoffice bill is still unfinished. It will be followed by the consul and diplomatic and the army appropriation bills.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

An Old Lady Killed and No Clew to Her Murderer.

POMEROY, O., April 2.—The foulest murder in the history of this county was committed here about midnight. Elizabeth Slaughter, the divorced wife of Dr. Richard Slaughter, was found dead with three bullet holes in her head on the porch of Mrs. Clayton Stahl, her next door neighbor. She had been living alone and was 70 years old.

Mr. Clayton Stahl and wife, returning from an entertainment, fell over the dead body at their door. It is supposed she had run to her neighbor's, when attacked and murdered while trying to get in. The door shows the marks of kicks and the front door of the dead woman's house was found open and the lamp burning. Nothing was disturbed. The object of the murder is a mystery, as she was a peaceable and well-liked woman. There is no clew to the murderer. A 32-calibre Smith & Wesson shell was found in the yard.

STEAMER EMS OVERDUE.

She Is Now Fourteen Days Out From Southampton.

NEW YORK, April 2.—No news has been received of the Ems, 14 days out from Southampton. Fully 500 people applied at the barge office and the piers of the North German Lloyd company in Hoboken yesterday, to find out if any word had been received. It was with heavy hearts that some of those who called went to their homes. Even the most sanguine now admit that the steamship has met with some accident, probably a bad one, as never before has any overdue vessel of this class been overdue more than 13 days.

The officials of the North German Lloyd company were at the docks in Hoboken all day, awaiting some tidings of the vessel. The Saale of the same line, which left Bremen on March 25 and Southampton on the following day, is due here this evening and there are hopes by the company that she will be able to tell something of the steamship.

In the event of the Ems going south the hopes rest on the arrival of the Nauvia, the Jap warship, which has been stationed here for some months, left port a few days ago, ostensibly to go to Hawaii, for target practice. The Nauvia returned on the 21st, and either by coincidence or prearranged plan, she was met about 20 miles away by another big Japanese warship, the Takachiho.

The advocates of royalty have come to the conclusion that all hopes of restoration are passed, and that it is politic for them to acquiesce with good grace. It is said the queen has been advised of the fact that her restoration is impossible, and that she will advocate annexation of the islands to the United States in order to receive some form of bounty.

In far the most serious problem that confronts the provisional government at present is the attitude of the Jap laborers and their representative here. The Nauvia, the Jap warship, which has been stationed here for some months, left port a few days ago, ostensibly to go to Hawaii, for target practice. The Nauvia returned on the 21st, and either by coincidence or prearranged plan, she was met about 20 miles away by another big Japanese warship, the Takachiho.

During Fuyii's absence the Japanese on several plantations struck. The government brought all the strikers, to the number of 70, to this city, and they are now in jail. Japanese are against the provisional government, and their consul and other officers here have done all they could to further a feeling of antagonism.

At the last meeting of the councils the executive was asked whether Minister Willis was still carrying out his plan of intervention for the purpose of restoring Liliokalani. It was wished to let the natives understand just how the matter of restoration stood.

In reply, President Dole read the following communication from the minister:

CHANGE IN HONOLULU

The Natives Have Turned Against the Queen.

THE ANNEXATIONISTS' CLAIM.

It Is Said That the Queen Has Given Up All Hope of Being Restored and Will Favor Annexation—The Provisional Government Experiencing Trouble With the Japanese.

HONOLULU, March 13, via San Francisco, April 2.—Within the past week there has been a material change in the political condition of the islands. Briefly it may be summed up by saying that the natives are now coming out for annexation. Had the natives been left to their own devices, there never would have been any serious opposition to the annexation of Hawaii to the United States.

The advocates of royalty have come to the conclusion that all hopes of restoration are passed, and that it is politic for them to acquiesce with good grace. It is said the queen has been advised of the fact that her restoration is impossible, and that she will advocate annexation of the islands to the United States in order to receive some form of bounty.

DUN & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say business is exceptionally cautious and safe, and its slow gain is more encouraging than a frothy and flighty expansion.

COXEY'S army of tramps now on their way to Washington is a reminder of the fact that "tramps and trusts were practically unknown in this country until after we had suffered from a monopolist's tariff for a number of years."

THE total value of gold bullion received at the Denver Mint in March was $320,187, an increase of $208,655 over the corresponding month of last year. The receipts since January 1 are $730,926, an increase over the same period last year of $448,063. The fight against the white metal has stimulated gold mining to a wonderful extent.

MURAT HALSTEAD is one of the great advocates of protection for the laborers of this country, but the telegraph brings the news that the printers in the office of his paper, the Brooklyn Standard Union, struck Saturday against a proposed alteration of wages. These great friends of the working men never practice what they preach.

BR'EN DAVIS still harps about "hard times" and charges up every little business trouble to the Democratic administration, and yet he knows full well that the worst labor troubles, the bloodiest riots, the most destructive strikes, the most brutal lockouts ever known in any country have occurred in the United States under high tariffs and Republican rule.

THE Falmouth Guide doesn't believe Claud Desha's statement that Harrison County would support Senator Goebel for the Appellate Judgeship and turn her back on Hon. Leslie Applegate, of Pendleton. The Guide and Mr. Desha should not overlook the fact that Harrison is in the Ninth Congressional district, and may not support either Mr. Applegate or Mr. Goebel for Judge.

HERE'S something to the point. An exchange says: "It is by no means the least of life's rules to let things alone. Much that would be something has become nothing by being left alone, and what was nothing has become of much consequence by being made much of. The best that right-minded people can wish for William Breckinridge and Madeline Pollard is punishment in accordance with their offense, without this exhibition of morbid curiosity or impudent meddling—just as lying and stealing and killing are dealt with—and then oblivion."

THAT Dover correspondent has worked off another fake on the Cincinnati Enquirer. In Saturday's issue of that paper he had a special telling about Mrs. Jane Belmont celebrating her 103rd birthday, and adding that she is the mother of Louis Belmont, "a well-known and prosperous farmer of this county." He adds that "Mrs. Belmont takes great pride in the fact that she witnessed the trial trip of the first steamboat built. In September, 1807, she was one of that vast concourse of people which assembled along the banks of the North River to witness the starting of Robert Fulton's Clermont."

There is no family of the name given living in Mason County, according to the BULLETIN's best information.

HERE'S MORE GOOD NEWS.

Factories Starting Up in Many Sections—Some on Double Turn.
Wages Restored.

The New York World of March 28 published nearly two columns of short dispatches telling of the resumption of mills and factories in many sections of the country. We copy the following:

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—The Empire Woollen Company, of Clayville, started on full time Friday after a shut-down of several months.

PITTSBURG, PA.—A significant indication of an improvement in business here is the fact that there has not been an assignment in the county for some time.

ORWIGSBURG, PA.—Six of the seven shoe factories of this place are now working full time and several are even working overtime. These six factories employ over 500 men, women and boys.

HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y.—The extensive shoe factory of Wm. Richardson is running at full capacity, and the men work double turns. Business is better at this season of the year than for many years.

WARE, MASS.—Charles A. Stevens & Co.'s woollen mill in this town, employing about 250 men, will resume on regular time April 2. This mill has been closed more than seven months.

KENNEDY SQUARE, PA.—Marshall Bros.' paper mills near here have resumed operations and are now running night and day. They have orders ahead to keep the mill running to its full capacity for six months.

READING, PA.—The large fur-hat factory of G. W. Alexander & Co., of this city, is running double time, and has been for several weeks. The orders on hand will keep the establishment in operation until summer.

UTICA, N. Y.—The Skenandoah Cotton Mill, in this city, has recently received such a large number of orders that it has been found impossible immediately to supply the demand. The largest mill belonging to the company was put to work on extra time.

WATERTOWN, N. Y.—The New York Air Brake Company has received orders for 1,200 sets of brake equipments, and its extensive factory has resumed its former activity. The company is re-engaging many old employees, most of whom have been idle during the winter. One thousand men will be employed.

AUGUSTA, GA., March 28.—The Chronicle publishes a statement this morning showing that the Augusta cotton mills are in splendid condition, with sufficient orders on hand to run them for six months, even if no more orders are booked. One mill has just received an order from a Northern firm amounting to about a quarter of a million dollars.

LAWRENCE, MASS.—Phillips & Kunhardt gave notice to the employees of their mill Friday that on April 2 work will be begun on goods for which orders are now on hand. They agree to run until July 1. They further announce that the wages which were in effect before the reduction was made January 22 will be restored. This reduction was about 20 per cent. Brown & Ackroyd, dress goods manufacturers, have announced an increase of 5 and 10 per cent. in wages.

CORTLAND, N. Y.—The Cortland Howe Ventilating Stove Company resumed work in its foundry with nearly its regular force Monday, after having been closed since early last December. The industry is one of the most important in Cortland, and starts up again to fill orders already received for the fall trade. Wickwire Bros.' large wire-weaving and wire-drawing mills are now running day and night. A number of the wagon factories are also running, with two-thirds or more of their usual forces.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by Mr. George W. Blatterman, County Superintendent.

WASHINGTON COLORED SCHOOL—DISTRICT 102.

The teachers of this school are Mrs. Mary E. Stevens, principal, and Miss Martha Bookram, assistant. The attendance was fifty. Mrs. Stevens, formerly Miss Bookram, has had charge of this school several years and her work is always of the highest order. Principal and assistant are thoroughly educated and know how to conduct a school. The recitations show good scholarship, especially in arithmetic. Mrs. Stevens and her sister are ladies of refinement and their influence in the school and in the community is highly beneficial. I hope they will be retained. The order and deportment of the scholars were admirable.

FARRY—DISTRICT NO. 57.

The trustees are Lewis K. Parry, John Mitchell and Pat Maher. Teacher, Mr. W. H. Hicks. Attendance, thirty. The teacher gives entire satisfaction and the patrons of the school are well pleased. Classes in primary geography, reading, physiology and civil government doing well. This school labors under great difficulty through having a school house that is altogether insufficient for the accommodation of teacher and scholars. It is difficult for the teacher to conduct the school satisfactorily and the scholars are uncomfortable under such conditions. The trustees appreciate this and in due time will provide a commodious house adapted to the district.

THE BIG REVIVAL.

Evangelist Fife Attracting Very Large Crowds—Many Turned Away Last Night.

Mr. Fife, the evangelist, arrived Saturday and was given large and attentive audiences at the morning and evening service, at the First Baptist Church, on yesterday.

At night every seat in the large building was taken and the aisles filled. More than three hundred people were turned away.

Mr. Fife's manner is plain, earnest and forcible. He speaks the truth in love, regardless of friends or foe, hewing to the line and letting the chips fall where they may.

His subject at the morning service was "The Bible." He dealt infidelity and the higher critics some fearful blows. At the conclusion of his sermon Mr. Maloney sang, "Cling to the Old Bible" with marked effect.

At night Mr. Fife's subject was "Take Ye Away the Stone." This was treated under three heads:

1. The Stone of Prejudice.
2. The Stone of Sectarianism.
3. The Stone of Unbelief.

Many severe hits were made and no doubt the churches and pastors will be benefited. At the after meeting many remained and asked for prayers.

Preaching daily at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Song service begins at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m.

All cordially invited.

A FORMER Cincinnati now living in New York claims to have seen Eb Cheney in the latter city three times in the past year or so. Cheney was the well known drummer who disappeared at Ripley during the winter of 1889. A body supposed to be his was found in the river below Ripley a few months later.

BURIAL OF LOUIS KOSUTH.
The Remains of the Hungarian Patriot
Laid to Rest.

BUDAPESTH, April 2.—An immense crowd of people from all parts of Hungary and many from Austria was in this city. The great center of attraction was the national museum, in which the body of Kosuth was lying in state. It is estimated that at least 150,000 persons of all classes walked past the catafalque.

Several impressive incidents marked the day. One was the visit of a large number of maidens from Transylvania, clad wholly in white, who deposited wreaths on the coffin. The veteran honed Hussars also attracted much attention. The 5,000 inhabitants of Czegled who walked in a body the long distance from there to Buda-Pesth in order to pay their last token of respect and love to the great Hungarian, arrived safely, and their visit to the hall was one of the noteworthy incidents of the day.

The streets were thronged the whole night with constantly arriving delegations.

The funeral services were held in the vestibule of the museum in the presence of Lutheran bishops, members of the Hungarian diet and the Hungarian magnates. After the singing of the national anthem, in which all present joined, Bishop Sarkany delivered an oration in which he eloquently extolled the patriotic services of Kosuth.

Maurice Jokai, one of the leading Hungarian writers, and a member of the diet, followed, speaking on behalf of the lower house. He dwelt at length upon the self-sacrifice Kosuth had made for his country, concluding with a touching farewell to the dead patriot. His words moved many of his audience to tears.

The burgomaster of Pest said that the grave of Kosuth would become a place of pilgrimage for Hungarians, every one of whom felt the deepest gratitude for the services Kosuth had rendered his country.

When the funeral services at the museum had been concluded, the coffin was conveyed to the funeral car, to which were attached eight horses with mournful caparison.

In the funeral procession were 20 special cars bearing between 2,000 and 3,000 wreaths. Then followed 600 honveds. All wore medals. Included among the regimental colors carried was the celebrated black flag with 13 death heads in memory of the martyrs who fell in the suppression of the revolution at Arad. Firemen formed a guard on each side.

The cortège occupied two hours in reaching the cemetery. The streets through which it passed were densely crowded. Not a window nor a roof along the route was unoccupied. Business, much of which is done in Buda-Pesth on Sundays, was at a complete standstill, all the business houses being closed. Everybody wore mourning, and the city presented a scene that was never before witnessed here.

When the gates of the cemetery were reached the funeral car stopped for a moment. Only the pallbearers, consisting of 30 members of the upper house of the diet and 30 members of the lower house, headed by their respective vice presidents, the honveds officials, and Kosuth's relatives were admitted into the cemetery.

Throughout the march from the national museum to the cemetery Kosuth's sons, Fritz and Louis, walked behind the coffin. They were surrounded by a detachment of students carrying his principal wreaths.

The final ceremony, though simple, was very impressive. Several speeches were made by representatives of the independence party and by honveds who served under Kosuth. After the singing of a chorale the coffin was lowered into a temporary vault. At this moment a touching spectacle presented itself, the immense assemblage gathered outside the cemetery falling upon their knees and offering a silent prayer. The ceremonies concluded, the crowd dispersed quietly.

ALARMING STATE OF AFFAIRS.
Ten Thousand Men to Strike and Bloodshed Almost Sure to Follow.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 2.—Reports from all the massmeetings in the coke region yesterday have been received at the headquarters here. An immense meeting was held at Leisengring. The Frick men, who have been counted on to come out, are divided. There is to be a convention at Scottdale, and the Frick men will wait to see what the outcome may be. This convention will be made up of delegates from the Leisengring district, chiefly Frick employees.

The arrangements officially vouches for are that at least 20 of the biggest plants in the region will close down and the waging of another bitter fight between capital and labor. The memory of many conflicts in this region, in connection with even less formidable fights than the one at hand, have prepared the people here for the worst that may come.

Some of the most conservative men in this region, who speak from experience with these affairs, rate the situation as not only serious, but alarming, the more so on account of the general destitution throughout the coke country, which in the extremities to which it has reduced thousands hereabouts, is little dreamed of by the community at large.

The leaders declare that without taking the Frick employees into account 10,000 men will strike.

Employees of the Cambria Iron company, at the Wheeler-Morrell works, have already struck.

It is stated without reservation that after the other coke workers are out, the work of compelling the Frick men to come out will be taken in hand. If this is attempted, bloodshed will follow. Frick has 4,500 men at work who are working under a three-years contract and do not want to strike.

The authorities here do not conceal their apprehension, and are preparing to wear in special officers at a minute's notice.

CARROLLTON, Ga., April 2.—W. B. Brozell, a well-to-do farmer of Heard county, yesterday shot his wife and then attempted to kill himself, inflicting a probably fatal wound. A family quarrel led to the shooting. His wife will recover.

It is quite evident how far people get behind the times that don't read the BULLETIN. We heard a lady from the country remark that Superintendent Blatterman had visited their school and wondered what was the object of his visit, not seeming to be aware of the fact that he makes those visits annually as a part of his duties. Subscribe for the BULLETIN and keep up with the times.
